

Inform Racing Free Betting Course – Lesson 3

www.informracing.com

This betting system looks at horses that start at a shorter price than they were forecast at in the morning paper.

The best paper to use is the Racing Post which if you do not get yourself, then you can of course use the online website where currently, the betting forecasts for each race are free after 9am.

All you do is look for a horse that is considerably lower in odds than it was predicted to be in the paper.

The main reason behind this is that a lot of inside money slowly trickles in during the morning and Bookmakers are alerted to this, therefore the prices will constrict. The clever money is being placed around the country and the patterns become apparent in the big betting chains who then exercise control at the tracks.

You can work to the table below for great success, so follow the tables closely.

You will start to back horses that you would not normally have considered, many who look out of form or with no obvious chance.

You should wait for the latest opportunity to place the bet to ensure the rules have been followed and you can follow the staking that is suggested or use your own rules for this.

Paper Forecast Price	Price at the off, or less.	Suggested staking
33/1	16/1	3 points each way
25/1	16/1
20/1	14/1
16/1	10/1
14/1	8/1
12/1	7/1
10/1	6/1	5 points win or
9/1	5/1
8/1	9/2
7/1	4/1
13/2	4/1
6/1	7/2
11/2	7/2
5/1	3/1
9/2	5/2
4/1	9/4
7/2	9/4
10/3	2/1	Just 3 points win
3/1	7/4	Ignore if you do not like
11/4	7/4	Betting short prices
5/2	13/8
9/4	5/4
2/1	5/4

Thanks, and here is to your success.

Inform Racing

www.informracing.com